Dry, Non-Infectious Amalgam and Extracted teeth with Amalgam Containers

One container is for dry, non-infectious, non-contact amalgam which should be stored dry and is recycled separately per ADA Best Management Practices. Place any excess amalgam left over after filling a tooth in the container. It may be kept chair side for ease of use.

The other container is for Extracted teeth with Amalgam Restorations. Keep lids tightly closed when not in use and return them with your kit.

Gold Refining Container

The gold labeled container is for any gold restorations. If the tooth contains both an amalgam restoration and a gold restoration, include it in the gold cup. If a tooth only has amalgam, place it in the cup for Extracted Teeth with Amalgam.

When the gold container is full, please call 1-800-486-2858 or email admin@maguireref.com for a free pre-paid return shipping label.

Upon receipt of your material, Maguire Refining will disinfect the contents, separate the gold from the no-value material, and properly recycle all no-value material. The metal will then be melted and assayed for :

- Gold
- Silver
- Platinum
- Palladium

After the assay is complete, settlement will be made based on current precious metal market prices. Settlement options include:

- Check
- Wire Transfer
- Exchange for bullion or coins

Maguire Refining is the premier precious metal refiner in the Midwest. Owner John Maguire's family has been in the precious metals refining industry for three generations.

Pre-Paid Scrap Mailer

If your patient requests that you return extracted crowns or teeth containing dental gold, please give them a Pre-Paid Scrap Mailer Envelope. They simply need to place the item in the envelope and provide their contact information. Upon receipt, Maguire Refining will assess the value of the metal and send the patient a check. If the tooth contains both amalgam and gold restorations, the amalgam will be recycled safely.

If your office needs additional Gold Refining Containers or Pre-Paid Scrap Mailers please call 1-800-486-2858 or email admin@maguireref.com. They will be provided free of charge.
